ABOUT DOMESTIC VIOLENCE
What is domestic violence?
Domestic violence constitutes a broad range of behaviors occurring along a continuum from voyeurism to rape, and usually happens over an extended period of time.
How common is it?
Domestic violence is occurring in pandemic proportions and causes grave physical and psychological trauma, along with social havoc
It is difficult to know the true extent of domestic violence. Most domestic violence is never reported (due to shame, fear, stigma, manipulation, and other factors).
What are the consequences?
We all privately or publicly know survivors who have not only survived, but also thrived; it has taken work for them to get there. Often extremely severe consequences include:
Depression, anxiety, PTSD, and other psychological problems
Anti-social behaviors
Decreased school performance and delinquency
Substance abuse
Promiscuity
Teen pregnancy
Sexually transmitted infections and diseases, including HIV
Prostitution
Homicide and suicide
Incarceration
Chronic disease

Media & Other Advocacy
Stop domestic violence uses the media (television, radio, press, internet) to catalyze public awareness and social change. Major campaigns run each year. The campaigns have reached millions through TV, radio, and the press with most media time donated.
Community Education & Outreach
By holding seminars and talks in communities and schools many can be and have been educated about what can be done in such a situation.
Survivors Groups
Stop Domestic Violence promotes survivors' groups and information about the closest and the most helpful survivor groups.
